The cases recently decided at Pittsburg in favor of Mr. McMillan appear, from investi-gation, to be judicial monstrosities, unwar-ranted by the evidence and an injustice to the defendants. There is one thing gained by the decisions, however, and that is the long-wished for opportunity of carrying them to the Supreme Court. These capstan cases have been before Judge McKennan for over ten years, whose decision could not be over ten years, whose decision could not be obtained until a few weeks ago, so that it could be carried up. They will now go up to the Supreme Court, where they will no doubt be reversed. That a fair-minded judge will not decide favorably to McMillan is instanced a year ago before Judge Treat, United States District Judge at St. Louis, who decided that the boat could give bond, but if the claimants collected they would have to give bond. An collected they would have to give bond. Another case where the decision favored the boat, was in this city, in the absence of Judge McKennan when the late Judge Ketchum decided in the case of Captain Burleigh, that the boat could give bond, which Judge McKennan has persistently refused to do. Mr. Kennan has persistently refused to do. Mr. McMillan it seems will never sue any parties out of the Pittsburg. District The Jack Frost arrived yesterday from Helena, and was getting ready to leave last night for St. Louis with a tow of empty ice-barges.

MCMITTAIN IT Seems with never sue any parties out of the Pittsburg District, excepting the suit brought at St. Louis, and which was dismissed at plaintiff's cost. The Pittsburg cases barges.
